CORAM: HONOURABLE THE CHIEF JUSTICE

ORAL JUDGMENT

Date: 23-06-2017

Considering the fact that the respondents have paid the amount to the petitioner as per their calculation contained in the calculation chart filed after the orders were passed by this Court, objection now raised by the petitioner in the 9th supplementary affidavit is a dispute between the parties after the settlement of the claim as calculated by the respondents. The said dispute cannot be looked into and adjudicated in a proceeding for contempt. The petitioner now after settlement of his claim is required to challenge the action in an appropriate forum and the dispute now in the matter of calculation and payment of benefits to the petitioner after deduction of taxes etc. cannot be adjudicated in this contempt application.

With the aforesaid, the application is disposed of with liberty to the petitioner to claim the same afresh in accordance with law.
