CORAM: HONOURABLE MR. JUSTICE PRABHAT KUMAR
JHA
ORAL ORDER

2 16-03-2017 Heard both sides.

The petitioner apprehends his arrest in Majorganj P.S. case No.346 of 2016 under Section 25(1-B) a, 26 of the Arms Act.

The police officer got information that Ganesh Rai, the petitioner, accused of Majorganj P.S. case No. 200 of 2016, had come to his house and, on such, a raid was conducted but the petitioner managed to flee away. The police, on search, recovered country made gun and a Nokia mobile from under the bed of the petitioner.

The learned counsel for the petitioner submits that the house is joint family property and many persons are residing in the house but only petitioner has been made accused but from perusal of the FIR, it appears that arms was recovered from under the bed of the petitioner and petitioner is accused in Excise case from before.

Considering the facts aforesaid, I am not inclined to enlarge the petitioner on anticipatory bail. Accordingly, the same is rejected.
