1. Considering the nature of prayer wherein it is stated that offence under Sections 467, 468 & 471 of IPC are also to be registered against the accused and to file charge sheet. This court in exercise of power under Section 482 of Cr.P.C. is not inclined to pass any supervisory order since all the complaint as has been made is within the domain of the Magistrate and if petition like nature are entertained, then High Court will be flooded with the cases almost working as superior officer of the IO. Petitioner is at liberty to move suitable application before the Magistrate under whose jurisdiction the investigation is being carried out.
2. Petition is devoid of merit and it is dismissed accordingly.
