For Applicant	:	Shri J.N.Nande, Advocate
For Respondent / State	:	Shri D.R.Minj, Dy.G.A.

Hon'ble Shri Justice P. Sam Koshy

Order On Board

16/06/2017

This is fourth application for grant of anticipatory bail.

2. The bail application of the applicant was already decided on merits way back in 2014. Subsequently, the second bail application was also rejected. However, liberty was granted to the applicant of being a lady that in the event, she moves appropriate application for grant of regular bail, her application for grant of regular bail be considered on the same date. This protection was also sustained by this Court while rejecting third anticipatory bail application.
3. Learned counsel for the applicant has placed reliance on the medical certificate wherein there is a report of the applicant being pregnant.
4. This Court does not find it a strong case for grant of anticipatory bail, particularly, when her bail application was rejected on merits in 2014 and also on two earlier occasions i.e. in the year 2015 itself.
5. Accordingly, this anticipatory bail application stands rejected with the liberty as granted earlier.
