Learned counsel for the respondents opposed the applications on the ground that there is inordinate delay in filing the present appeals and it has not been explained satisfactorily. The delay caused in filing the appeals is not accidental and it is an intentional. In the alternate, the learned counsel submits that if the applicants succeed, they shall not be entitled for the amount of interest and/or other statutory benefits for the period for which the delay sought to be condoned.

4. In view of the observations made by the Supreme Court in the case of Ramanlal Deochand Shah Vs. State of Maharashtra and another, reported in AIR 2013 SC 3452, the delay can be condoned on the condition that in case the appellants succeed in the first appeals, then they will not be entitled for the amount of interest on monetary benefits and/or other statutory benefits for the period of delay and it is accordingly condoned.

5. Civil applications are accordingly disposed of.

6. In first appeal, the learned counsel for the appellants submits that some the matters are likely to be settled in Lok Adalat and therefore the same may be referred to Lok Adalat.

7. In view of above, refer the above matters to the Lok Adalat, which is scheduled to be held on 9th December, 2017.
