3. Reading of the representation of the petitioner to the respondents 1 to 3, dated 22.07.2017, discloses several criminal offences against several individuals including police. The petitioner has made serious allegations against everyone. The allegations are serious and attract several provisions of I.P.C. However, none of the incident, the petitioner refers to in the criminal complaint against the individual concerned is reported and no complaint at the relevant time. Thereafter, the petitioner gave a representation to give police protection to the petitioner and her family members' life and limb.

4. The case of the petitioner lacks bonafide. For the reasons stated in the representation, the petitioner ought to have given a criminal complaint. The petitioner has no cause of action to seek police protection, merely because, the person against whom she has given complaint, have committed several offences against the petitioner. Instead of prosecuting them for criminal offences in the manner known to law, the petitioner cannot seek police protection. In the said circumstances, this Court is of the firm view that the petition lacks bonafide and this Court is not inclined to entertain this petition. Hence, the Criminal Original petition is dismissed.
