[Order of the Court by T.S.SIVAGNANAM, J.]

<https://hcservices.ecourts.gov.in/hcservices/>
The detenu, namely, Panapandi, son of Paraman, aged about 23 years, has filed this Habeas Corpus Petition. He has been detained by the second respondent by his order in Cr.M.P.No.09/2016, dated 16.09.2016, holding him to be a "Goonda", as contemplated under Section 2(f) of Tamil Nadu Act 14 of 1982. The said order is under challenge in this Habeas Corpus Petition.

2. We have heard the learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned Additional Public Prosecutor appearing for the respondents. We have also perused the records produced by the Detaining Authority.

3. Though several grounds have been raised in the Habeas Corpus Petition, the learned counsel appearing for the petitioner would mainly focus his argument on the ground that there is gross violation of procedural safeguards, which would vitiate the detention. The learned counsel, by placing authorities, submitted that the representation made by the petitioner was not considered on time and there was an inordinate and unexplained delay.

4. The learned Additional Public Prosecutor opposed the Habeas Corpus Petition. He would submit that though there was delay in considering the representation, on that score alone, the impugned detention order cannot be quashed. According to the learned Additional Public Prosecutor, no prejudice has been caused to the detenu and thus, there is no violation of the fundamental rights guaranteed under Articles 21 and 22 of the Constitution of India.

5. The Detention Order in question was passed on 16.09.2016. The petitioner made a representation on 17.10.2016. Thereafter, remarks were called for by the Government from the Detaining Authority on 24.10.2016. The remarks were duly received on 02.11.2016. Thereafter, the Government considered the matter and passed the order rejecting the petitioner's representation on 26.12.2016.

6. It is the contention of the petitioner that there was a delay of 09 days in submitting the remarks by the Detaining Authority, of which 02 days were Government Holidays and hence there was an inordinate delay of 07 days in submitting the remarks. Thereafter, there was another delay of 54 days in considering the representation, of which 18 days were Government Holidays, hence, there was another inordinate delay of 36 days in considering the representation.

7. In Rekha vs. State of Tamil Nadu, reported in 2011 (5) SCC 244, the Honourable Supreme Court has held that the procedural safeguards are required to be zealously watched and enforced by the Courts of law and their rigour cannot be allowed to be diluted on the basis of the nature of the alleged activities undertaken by the detenu.

8. In Sumaiya vs. The Secretary to Government, reported in 2007 (2) MWN (Cr.) 145, a Division Bench of this Court has held that the unexplained delay of three days in disposal of the representation made on behalf of the detenu would be sufficient to set aside the order of detention.

9. In Tara Chand vs. State of Rajasthan and others, reported in 1980 (2) SCC 321, the Honourable Supreme Court has held that any inordinate and unexplained delay on the part of the Government in considering the representation renders the very detention illegal.

10. In the subject case, admittedly, there is an inordinate and unexplained delay of 07 days in submitting the remarks by the Detaining Authority and 36 days in considering the representation. The impugned detention order is, therefore, liable to be quashed.

11. In the result, the Habeas Corpus Petition is allowed and the order of detention in Cr.M.P.No.09/2016, dated 16.09.2016, passed by the second respondent is set aside. The detenu, namely, Panapandi, son of Paraman, aged about 23 years, is directed to be released forthwith unless his detention is required in connection with any other case.
