. . . Respondents

CORAM: HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE ANIL KSHETARPAL

Present: Mr. J.R. Brar, Advocate for the appellant.

Mr. M.S. Atwal, Advocate for the respondents.

Anil Kshetarpal, J. (Oral)

This revision petition is arising out of order dated 03.11.2014 (Annexure P-5) passed by learned first Appellate Court accepting the appeal filed by the defendant. Learned Trial Court had allowed the application under Order 39 Rules 1 and 2 CPC whereas learned first Appellate Court has chosen to reverse the same.

While issuing notice of motion, this Court on 08.01.2015 directed the parties to maintain status quo.

Learned counsel for the parties have brought to my notice that the plaintiffs have already closed their evidence. Defendants are in the process of leading their evidence. Certain witnesses of the defendants are required to be cross-examined. Therefore, the trial is almost at the fag end.

Civil Revision No.8590 of 2014

Since the trial has already made substantial progress and is at advanced stage, therefore, the interim order dated 08.01.2015 shall continue to operate till the decision of the suit.

The trial Court is directed to dispose of the suit within a period of 6 months.

Petition stands disposed of accordingly.
