Notices were issued to the petitioner as also to the respondent-workman after counsel for the parties failed to put in appearance. It has been reported that the petitioner could not be served as no firm of such name was found at the given address. Notice issued to respondent No.1 has also been received back unserved with the report that no such person is residing at the given address.

In the circumstances, the writ petition is consigned with liberty to the parties to get it revived in case of need.
