Heard learned counsel for the rival parties.

The remedy for filing the petition for regular bail is available to the petitioner. The offence of snatching is registered against the petitioner under Section 379-B of Indian Penal Code, 1860. However, two accused have been released on bail. Petitioner has to his credit eight more offences of similar nature. The petitioner does not deserve any relief for grant of anticipatory bail. The object of granting anticipatory bail is not to defeat the rights of the citizens, who are victims of the acts of the persons like the petitioner.

Petition stands dismissed, accordingly.
