CORAM: HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE INDERJIT SINGH

Present: Mr.Munish Gupta, Advocate for the petitioner.

INDERJIT SINGH, J.

Petitioner has filed this petition under Section 482 Cr.P.C. against State of Haryana and other respondents for issuance of directions to official respondents to carry out fair, impartial and proper investigation in case FIR No.396 dated 20.08.2016 registered under Sections 120-B, 420, 467, 468 and 471 IPC at Police Station City Narnaul, District Mahendergarh, as till date neither any accused has been arrested nor report under Section 173 Cr.P.C. has been presented.

At the time of arguments, learned counsel for the petitioner mainly argued on one point that investigation should be conducted fairly and impartially.

I have heard learned counsel for the petitioner and have gone through the record.

It is settled proposition of law that when the alternative remedies are available, then the petition under Section 482 Cr.P.C. cannot be entertained. The petitioner is mainly claiming the relief of direction to official respondents to get investigate the FIR fairly and properly. If the petitioner has grievance that investigation is not being conducted fairly and properly, he has the remedy to approach Illaqa Magistrate, who has ample powers to supervise and even monitor the investigation. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in Sakiri Vasu v. State of U.P. and others, 2008 (1) R.C.R. (Cr.) 392 has held that the petition under Section 482 Cr.P.C. should not be entertained in routine and it is held as under:-

27. As we have already observed above, the Magistrate has very wide powers to direct registration of an FIR and to ensure a proper investigation, and for this purpose he can monitor the investigation to ensure that the investigation is done properly (though he cannot investigate himself). The High Court should discourage the practice of filing a writ petition or petition under Section 482 Cr.P.C. simply because a person has a grievance that his FIR has not been registered by the police, or after being registered, proper investigation has not been done by the police. For this grievance, the remedy lies under Sections 36 and 154(3) before the concerned police officers, and if that is of no avail, under Section 156(3) Cr.P.C. before the Magistrate or by filing a criminal complaint under Section 200 Cr.P.C. and not by filing a writ petition or a petition under Section 482 Cr.P.C.

28. It is true that alternative remedy is not an absolute bar to a writ petition, but it is equally well settled that if there is an alternative remedy the High Court should not ordinarily interfere.”

The law laid down in above judgment has also been relied upon by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in T.C. Thangaraj v. V. Engammal and others, 2011 (3) R.C.R. (Cr.) 751.

As the petitioner has alternative remedies as stated in the above-said case, especially to approach the Judicial Magistrate, therefore, this petition cannot be entertained and the same is dismissed with liberty to the petitioner to approach the Magistrate to avail alternative remedies.
