

IN THE HIGH COURT OF PUNJAB AND HARYANA AT CHANDIGARH

CWP No.20090 of 2017

Date of Decision: 6th September, 2017

Shamshad

....Petitioner

Vs.

State of Haryana and others

....Respondents

CORAM: HON'BLE MR.JUSTICE RAKESH KUMAR JAIN

Present: Mr.Shaym Singh Chhokar, Advocate, for the petitioner.

RAKESH KUMAR JAIN, J. (ORAL)

This petition is filed against the order dated 22.8.2017 passed by the District Assistant, Food, Civil Supplies and Consumer Affairs Officer.

During the course of hearing, learned counsel for the petitioner has fairly conceded that the said order is appealable before the Deputy Commissioner-cum-District Magistrate.

In view thereof, once the petitioner has an alternative remedy under the Statute/rules, the present petition by invoking extraordinary jurisdiction of this Court under Article 226/227 of the Constitution of India is not maintainable. The petitioner may, if so advised, avail his remedy under the Statute.

Disposed of.
