

$~9

*

IN THE HIGH COURT OF DELHI AT NEW DELHI

+

CS(OS) 291/2014

ARISTOS CREATIONS PVT LTD

..... Plaintiff

Through Mr. J.C. Seth, Adv.

versus

SAVERA PRESS COMPS PVT LTD

..... Defendant

Through Mr. R.F Totala and Mr. Ashutosh
Dubey, Advs.

CORAM:

HON'BLE MS. JUSTICE INDERMEET KAUR

ORDER

% 27.04.2017

I.A. No.3855/2017, CS(OS) 291/2014, I.A. No.17621/2014, I.A. No.24688/2014, CC No.8/2015, I.A. No.23206/2015 & I.A. No.1736/2016

Parties have settled their disputes. The aforementioned joint application has been filed by the parties duly signed by them and supported by the affidavits of the Vice-President of the plaintiff and Director of the defendant company. The terms of settlement are annexed along with this application which is collectively marked as Ex.P-1. Parties shall be bound by the terms the conditions contained in Ex.P-1. This Court has been informed that Rs.6 lacs has been received by the plaintiff and the balance sum of Rs.90 lacs along with service tax/any other tax prevailing at the time of payment in 18 instalments (detailed in the settlement agreement) will also be honoured. Needless to state that this is an undertaking on behalf of the defendant which shall be honoured in true letter and spirit. In case it is not honoured, the plaintiff will be at liberty to take all appropriate remedies including contempt proceedings to be initiated against the defendant.

Learned counsel for the parties submit that they are entitled to a refund of Court Fee. Since the matter has not been settled before the Mediation Cell, this Court is not inclined to return the Court Fee.

Suit disposed of in the above terms. All other applications have become infructuous. They are also disposed of.

INDERMEET KAUR, J

APRIL 27, 2017

A