1. The petitioner has filed the present petition aggrieved by the non acceptance of an online application by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI).

At the outset, the learned counsel for the RBI states that similar complaints had also been received by other candidates and keeping that in view the RBI had decided to call for fresh online applications and in the meantime, had also decided to keep the applications already received in abeyance. He further states that prior intimation of such invitation would also be communicated to the petitioner.
