counsel appearing on behalf of the State.

The issue raised in these three writ petitions is no more res integra. In fact, similar such issue was raised before this Court in CWJC No. 10990 of 2013 and by judgment dated 20.11.2018, on consideration of the entire facts and circumstances, this Court held out that the respondents are not justified in refusing approval on the ground that at the relevant time there was ban in appointment in minority schools and the respondents have decided to appoint teachers in other schools on contractual basis or on fixed remuneration.

For the reasons mentioned in the judgment dated 20.11.2018 in CWJC No. 10990 of 2013, these three writ petitions are allowed. The respondents are directed to take appropriate decision in the light of the aforesaid decision of this Court.
