CORAM: HONOURABLE MR. JUSTICE RAJEEV RANJAN PRASAD
ORAL ORDER

4. 10-08-2018

It appears that when the writ application was preferred in the year 2015, the petitioner was looking for a direction to the respondents to consider certain representations submitted by the petitioner, however during pendency of the writ application admittedly police has conducted investigation in the cases pointed out in the writ application and upon completion of investigation charge-sheets have been filed, whereupon in one of the cases, as informed by learned counsel for the petitioner, even trial has begun. This being the position.

Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that even though prima facie the writ application seems to have become infructuous, but at the same time, the petitioner may be given liberty, while disposing of this writ application, to pursue his remedy in the court below under the Code of Criminal Procedure, in case he is not satisfying with the kind of investigation and the charge-sheet submitted by the police.

This writ application is being disposed of with the liberty aforesaid.
