Supreme Court of India. Ms. Saurastri further states that within three weeks from today, petitioning creditor will apply to the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India to expeditiously hear the civil appeal.

NOTICE OF MOTION NO.29 OF 2007

1 Applicant is seeking condonation of delay of 28 days in filing the insolvency petition against judgment debtor no.2.

2 Section 12 of the Presidency-Towns Insolvency Act 1909 in sub section 1 (c) provides when a creditor shall not be entitled to present a insolvency petition against a debtor unless the act of insolvency on which the petition is grounded has occurred within three months before the presentation of the petition. The Insolvency Act does not provided for any condonation of delay. I find support in an unreported judgment of this Court in insolvency petition dated 2nd May 1997 passed on 9th October 1997 in which the Court observed that the provisional Insolvency Act does not lay down the period of three months as a period of limitation but lays down the essential pre-requisite for filing of the insolvency petition. The period of three months is not a period of limitation but a condition precedent to the filing of the insolvency petition. The Court rejected the condonation of delay application on the grounds that petitioning creditor having lodged the petition after the period of 90 days, the 90 days being a condition pre-requisite for filing the petition.

3 In the circumstances, this notice of motion is also rejected.

Consequently, insolvency petition no.15 of 2007 also rejected.
