3.The petitioner is a terminated employee, who worked in the second respondent/Society. Aggrieved by the termination order, he filed revision before the first respondent. There was a delay of 226 days in lodging the Revision Petition. On that ground, the Revision Petition was not entertained.

4. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioner submits that along with the Revision Petition, he had filed an application for condoning the delay. But the same has been rejected in-limino.

5. The order impugned in the Writ Petition is therefore set aside. The matter is remitted to the file of the first respondent. The first respondent will issue notice to the second respondent herein and after disposing of the Condone delay petition, take up the main petition on merits. The entire exercise shall be completed within a period of four months from the date of receipt of a copy of this order.

6. The order impugned in the Writ Petition stands quashed. The Writ Petition is allowed accordingly. No costs. Consequently, the connected miscellaneous petition is closed.
