

THE HON'BLE SRI JUSTICE M.SATYANARAYANA MURTHY

Tr.C.M.P.No.588 OF 2013

ORDER:

This petition is filed under Section 24 Code of Civil Procedure (for short "C.P.C.") to withdraw F.C.O.P.No.47 of 2013 pending on the file of the Judge, Family Court, Kurnool and transfer the same to the Court having jurisdiction at Rajahmundry, East Godavari District on the following grounds.

(1) the Judge, Family Court at Kurnool has no jurisdiction to entertain the petition.

(2) The petitioner is unable to undertake journey from Ubalanka, without male assistance, to appear before the Court at Kurnool while taking care of the child.

During hearing, learned counsel for the petitioner mainly contended that the Judge, Family Court, Kurnool is not competent to try and decide the matter as no part of cause of action arose within the jurisdictional limits of Kurnool.

As seen from the petition filed under Section 13 (1) (ia) of the Hindu Marriage Act, the petitioner and respondent lived for sometime as wife and husband within the jurisdictional limits of Judge, Family Court, Kurnool i.e. from April to December, 2011 vide paragraph No.4 of the petition.

Section 19 of the Hindu Marriage Act deals with "Court to which petition shall be presented", which reads thus:

"19. Court to which petition shall be presented :_ Every petition under this Act shall be presented to the District Court within the local limits of whose ordinary original civil jurisdiction.

(i) the marriage was solemnised, or

(ii) the respondent at the time of the presentation of the petition, resides, or

- (iii) the parties to the marriage last resided together, or
- (iv) the petitioner is residing at the time of the presentation of the petition, in a case where the respondent is, at that time, residing outside the territories to which this Act extends, or has not been heard of as being alive for a period of seven years or more by those persons who would naturally have heard of him if he were alive.”

Clause (iii) of Section 19 of the Hindu Marriage Act confers jurisdiction on the Court where the parties to the marriage last resided.

According to the allegations made in paragraph No.4 of the petition filed under Section 13 (1) (ia) of the Hindu Marriage Act, both the petitioner and respondent lived together at Kurnool from April to December, 2011. Therefore, part of cause of action arose within the jurisdictional limits of Judge, Family Court, Kurnool, hence the Family Court, Kurnool is competent to try the case subject to proof of petitioner and respondent lived together for sometime within the jurisdictional limits of Judge, Family Court, Kurnool since their living together is a question of fact to be decided during the trial. Hence, on the ground of lack of territorial jurisdiction, the petition cannot be withdrawn and transferred to any other Court.

The petitioner contended that she is staying at Ubalanka, Ravulapalem Mandal, East Godavari District and she is unable to undertake journey covering distance of nearly 550 Kms to attend the Court at Kurnool in connection with F.C.O.P.No.47 of 2013.

No doubt, the petitioner being a lady may face difficulty to appear the Court at Kurnool on every date of adjournment and that itself is not a ground to withdraw and transfer the same to some other Court, if the Judge, Family Court, Kurnool is directed not to insist her appearance on every date of adjournment as long as the Counsel engaged by her is representing the case of the petitioner. Hence, the Judge, Family Court, Kurnool, is directed not to insist her appearance except on the dates whenever her personal appearance is required, if for any reason the counsel does not appear and represent the matter, the Court is permitted to pass appropriate order in accordance with law.

The other difficulty expressed by the petitioner is that she is unable to meet the travelling and incidental expenses.

If a direction is issued to the respondent to pay the travelling and other incidental expenses to the petitioner and the companion, who accompanied her to appear before the Court at Kurnool in connection with F.C.O.P.No.47 of 2013 whenever she appeared before the Judge, Family Court, it would serve the purpose.

The only ground to be considered for withdrawal and transfer the petition is convenience or inconvenience of the parties.

Section 24 of C.P.C. conferred discretionary jurisdiction on the Court to withdraw and transfer the cases pending on the file of one Court subordinate to High Court and its control and such jurisdiction has to be exercised with care and caution keeping in view the inconvenience being caused to the parties.

Section 24 of CPC extends the option of getting the forum changed to either party to a suit and gives them the option to move an application for transfer of suit to another Court. This section also empowers the High Court to suo moto (on its own motion) withdraw any case from a subordinate Court and adjudicate on it or transfer it to another Court. The High Court exercises its powers under this section keeping in mind the interest of justice and convenience of the parties. It is to be ensured that unnecessary inconvenience is not caused to any party as held in “K.Meenambigai v. Poovanandan (MANU/TN/1193/2008)”

Even otherwise, the judgments of Apex Court are consistent to the effect that the power under Section 24 of C.P.C. is purely discretionary and such power has to be exercised sparingly.

In the recent judgment “Santhini v. Vijaya Venketesh¹” the Apex Court discussed the law declared by the Apex Court in various judgments, where inconvenience of the wife alone is taking in to consideration and held as follows:

“In “Mona Aresh Goel v. Aresh Satya Goel (2000) 9 SCC 255”; the three-Judge Bench was dealing with the transfer of the matrimonial proceedings for divorce that was instituted by the husband in Bombay. The prayer of the wife was to transfer the case from Bombay to Delhi. The averment was made that the wife had no independent income and her parents were not in a position to bear the expenses of her travel from Delhi to Bombay to contest the divorce proceedings. That apart, various inconveniences were set forth and the husband chose not to appear in the Transfer Petition.

The Court, considering the difficulties of the wife, transferred the case from Bombay to Delhi. In Lalita A. Ranga v. Ajay Champalal Ranga (2000) 9 SCC 355” the Court, taking note of the fact that the husband had not appeared and further appreciating the facts and circumstances of the case, thought it appropriate to transfer the petition so that the wife could contest the proceedings. Be it noted, the wife had a small child and she was at Jaipur and it was thought that it would be difficult for her to go to Bombay to contest the proceedings from time to time.

A two Judge Bench in Krishna Veni Nagam v. Harish Nagam (2017) 4 SCC 150, while dealing with transfer petition seeking transfer of a case instituted Under Section 13 of the Hindu Marriage Act, 1955 (for brevity, 'the 1955 Act') pending on the file of Ind Presiding Judge, Family Court, Jabalpur, Madhya Pradesh to the Family Court, Hyderabad, Andhra Pradesh, took note of the grounds of transfer and keeping in view the approach of the Court to normally allow the transfer of the proceedings having regard to the convenience of the wife, felt disturbed expressing its concern to the difficulties faced by the litigants travelling to this Court and, accordingly, posed the question whether there was any possibility to avoid the same. It also took note of the fact that in the process of hearing of the transfer petition, the matrimonial matters which are required to be dealt with expeditiously are delayed. That impelled the Court to pass an order on 09.01.2017 which enumerated the facts including the plight asserted by the wife, the concept of territorial jurisdiction Under Section 19 of the 1955 Act, and reflected on the issues whether transfer of a case could be avoided and alternative mode could be thought of. Dwelling upon the said aspects, the Court articulated:

¹ (2018) 1 SCC 1

“In these circumstances, we are prima facie of the view that we need to consider whether we could pass a general order to the effect that in case where husband files matrimonial proceedings at place where wife does not reside, the court concerned should entertain such petition only on the condition that the husband makes appropriate deposit to bear the expenses of the wife as may be determined by the Court. The Court may also pass orders from time to time for further deposit to ensure that the wife is not handicapped to defend the proceedings. In other cases, the husband may take proceedings before the Court in whose jurisdiction the wife resides which may lessen inconvenience to the parties and avoid delay. Any other option to remedy the situation can also be considered.

As the narration would exposit, the pivotal concern of the Court was whether an order could be passed so as to provide a better alternative to each individual who is compelled to move this Court.”

The Apex Court took note of inconvenience being caused to the parties but not the inconvenience to the wife alone, considering the facts and circumstances of the case adverting to the earlier judgment rendered in “Ram Gulam Pandit v. Umesh J. Prasad” and “Rajwinder Kaur v. Balwinder Singh” (as referred in the judgment) and opined that all the authorities are based on the facts of the respective cases and they do not lay down any particular law which operates as a precedent. Thereafter, it noted that taking advantage of the leniency shown to the ladies by this Court, number of transfer petitions are filed by women and, therefore, it is required to consider each petition on merit. Then, the Court dwell upon the fact situation and directed that the husband shall pay all travel and stay expenses to the wife and her companion for each and every occasion whenever she was required to attend the Court. From the aforesaid decision, it is quite vivid that the Court felt that the transfer petitions are to be considered on their own merits and not to be disposed of in a routine manner.

The Apex Court also laid down the following six guidelines.

“(i) In view of the scheme of the 1984 Act and in particular Section 11, the hearing of matrimonial disputes may have to be conducted in camera.

(ii) After the settlement fails and when a joint application is filed or both the parties file their respective consent memorandum for hearing of the case through videoconferencing before the concerned Family Court, it may exercise the discretion to allow the said prayer.

(iii) After the settlement fails, if the Family Court feels it appropriate having regard to the facts and circumstances of the case that videoconferencing will sub-serve the cause of justice, it may so direct.

(iv) In a transfer petition, video conferencing cannot be directed.

(v) Our directions shall apply prospectively.

(vi) The decision in Krishna Veni Nagam (supra) is overruled to the aforesaid extent.”

Therefore, in view of the law declared by the Apex Court, it is left open to the Court, after failure of settlement, to find out the feasibility of Video conference and decide whether it would sub-serve the cause of justice. At this stage, the approach of the petitioner seeking withdrawal and transfer of F.C.O.P. No.47 of 2013 pending on the file of the Judge, Family Court, Kurnool is too early. Therefore, I find absolutely no ground to withdraw the F.C.O.P.No.47 of 2013 pending on the file of the Judge, Family Court, Kurnool and transfer the same to the Court having jurisdiction to try the same at East Godavari District.

In the result, the petition is disposed of without costs and the Judge, Family Court, Kurnool is directed as follows:

(1) not to insist the petitioner's appearance on every date of adjournment in F.C.O.P.No.47 of 2013 except for reconciliation and for recording her cross-examination if she wishes to examine herself and on any other day her personal appearance is directed by the Judge, Family Court. This order will not preclude the Judge, Family Court to pass any order in accordance with law in the event of her counsel failed appear and represent her.

(2) Whenever she attends the Court as directed by the Court, the respondent herein shall pay both traveling and other incidental expenses to the petitioner and the companion, who accompanied her to attend the Court at Kurnool.

The miscellaneous petitions pending, if any, shall also stand closed.

21.02.2018
Ksp

JUSTICE M. SATYANARAYANA MURTHY