3. On the direction issued by this Court on 23.10.2018, respondent No.4 Police produced the alleged detainee before the Court on 01.11.2018. She informed the Court that she is living with her parents at Dawangiri of her own will and consent and that she does not intend to join the company of the petitioner. The petitioner, who was also personally present, informed the Court that in view of the aforementioned stand taken by the alleged detainee, he is not interested in her any longer and that he will not interfere with the life and personal liberty of the alleged detenue, provided the latter withdraws the criminal cases registered against him. Today, at the hearing, the petitioner and the alleged detenue are personally present. The learned counsel for the petitioner has submitted that her client is interested in getting the marriage nullified with the cooperation of the alleged detenue and that therefore, he has detained the said certificate with him. The alleged detenue has requested the Court to direct the petitioner to delete all the marriage photographs from the latter's mobile. The petitioner has handed over his mobile phone to the alleged detenue, who has deleted all the photographs from the mobile. Both the parties have agreed that the criminal cases pending against each other will be withdrawn and that they will also cooperate with each other in getting their marriage nullified.

They have further agreed that they will not interfere with the life and liberty of each other.
