Counsel for the petitioner has circulated an adjournment slip.

Perusal of the records would reveal that case was taken up for the first time on 03.07.2017 and since then, it has been adjourned 5-6 times.

On 11.01.2018, order passed by this Court reads as follows:-

“On the last two dates, counsel for the petitioner had not made any submissions. Today also, a request for adjournment has been made. It appears that there is no urgency in the matter.

Adjourned to 01.03.2018.

To be shown in the ordinary list.”

Again on 01.03.2018, there was no appearance on behalf of the petitioner and case was adjourned to 15.05.2018.

Today, Counsel for the petitioner, without bothering about the previous order passed by this Court, has again circulated an adjournment slip. Keeping in view the previous conduct noted by this Court, request is declined. Counsel present in the Court on behalf of the petitioner has expressed his inability to argue the matter.

Dismissed for non prosecution.
