

IOIN FAO No. 861 of 1991

Kaushalya Rani vs Harpreet Singh

Present None.

The record of the case was burnt in the incident of fire in the High Court.

On 15.3.2017, this Court passed the following order:-

“Learned counsel for the appellant submits that the appeal had since been decided vide order dated 25.05.1998, though, despite earnest efforts, he could not obtain the copy of the said order. It is submitted that the award was rendered by the Motor Accident Claims Tribunal, Yamuna Nagar.

That being so, learned District Judge, Yamuna Nagar, is requested to ascertain if the copy of the order dated 25.05.1998 passed by this Court, was sent to the Tribunal or the executing Court.

Registry is directed to send the requisite details of this appeal along with this order to the District Judge, Yamuna Nagar.

Adjourned to 13.07.2017.”

A perusal of the aforesaid order shows that the appellant agreed that the main appeal has already been decided on 25.5.1998. Despite number of opportunities, copy of final order has not been furnished.

The case cannot be kept pending for this purpose. Let the file be consigned to record.
