ARVIND SINGH SANGWAN, J.

Petitioners have filed the present petition under Section 482 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 for quashing of FIR No. 111 dated 26.3.2017 under Sections 148,149, 323,324 and 506 (later on Section 326 IPC read with Section 34 IPC) of the Indian Penal Code, 1860 ('IPC' for short) registered at Police Station S.G.M. Nagar Faridabad District Faridabad (Annexure P1) and all consequential proceedings arising therefrom, on the basis of compromise (Annexure P2) .

Vide order dated 27.10.2017, a direction was given to the trial Court/Illaq Magistrate to record the statements of the parties and submit a report regarding the genuineness of the compromise effected between the parties and also to intimate whether any accused is proclaimed offender.

In pursuance thereof, the trial Court has submitted a report on 5.12.2017(forwarded by the District and Sessions Judge Faridabad dated 7.12.2017), after recording the statements of the parties. The trial Court has submitted that the complainant- Saddam, Ishub(injured), Ishu(eye witness) and accused- Pawan, Ved Nagar, Parveen, Vivek Chanchal, Chundi and Neeraj have appeared along with their respective counsel, who had identified them and got their statements recorded acknowledging that the compromise had been effected voluntarily, without any coercion or any undue influence. This fact is not disputed by learned State Counsel, who has submitted on instructions from Assistant Sub Inspector-Kamal Chand, that none of the petitioners is declared as proclaimed offender.

Learned counsel for the petitioners has submitted that the petitioners are aggrieved party and not the complainant and rather they have been falsely implicated in this case.

Perusal of allegations in the FIR reveals that the present case squarely falls in the category of cases that can be quashed by the High Court, in exercise of its inherent power under Section 482 of the Code. Keeping in view authoritative enunciation of law laid down by Hon'ble the Supreme Court of India in “Gian Singh vs State of Punjab and another”, 2012(4) R.C.R. (Criminal) 543 and in the light of facts and circumstances of the present case, this Court is of the considered opinion that continuation of criminal proceedings would amount to abuse of process of law and it is expedient in the interest of justice that criminal proceedings are put to an end.

As per the Full Bench judgement of this Court in Kulwinder

Singh and others vs. State of Punjab, 2007 (3) RCR (Criminal) 1052,

High Court has power under Section 482 Cr.P.C. to allow the compounding of non-compoundable offence and quash the prosecution where the High Court felt that the same was required to prevent the abuse of the process of any Court or to otherwise secure the ends of justice. This power of quashing is not confined to matrimonial disputes alone.

The Apex Court in Central Bureau of Investigation vs. Sadhu Ram Singla and others (2017) 5 Supreme Court Cases 350 has held as under:-

“Having carefully considered the singular facts and circumstances of the present case, and also the law relating to the continuance of criminal cases where the complainant and the accused had settled their differences and had arrived at an amicable arrangement, we see no reason to differ with the view taken in Manoj Sharma’s case (supra) and several decisions of this Court delivered thereafter with respect to the doctrine of judicial restraint. In concluding hereinabove, we are not unmindful of the view recorded in the decisions cited at the Bar that depending on the attendant facts, continuance of the criminal proceedings, after a compromise has been arrived at between the complainant and the accused, would amount to abuse of process of Court and an exercise in futility since the trial would be prolonged and ultimately, it may end in a decision which may be of no consequence to any of the parties.”

Since the parties have arrived at a compromise and have decided to live in peace, no useful purpose would be served in allowing the criminal proceedings to continue.

Accordingly, this petition is allowed. FIR No. 111 dated 26.3.2017 under Sections 148,149, 323, 324 and 506 (later on Section 326 IPC read with Section 34 IPC) IPC registered at Police Station S.G.M. Nagar Faridabad District Faridabad (Annexure P1) along with all the consequential proceedings, arising therefrom, are ordered to be quashed by way of compromise subject to paying costs in the sum of ₹ 5000/- in the Office of District Legal Services Authority, Faridabad within 8 weeks from today, failing which this order shall stand recalled automatically without reference to the Court.
