Satyapal Kakria, an accused faced trial, which resulted in his conviction and sentence. He preferred an appeal against that judgment, which is pending before learned Additional Sessions Judge, Faridabad. He did not appear in that Court regularly and an application for exemption of personal appearance had been filed on the ground that he was in New Zealand and admitted in a hospital there due to excessive bleeding. That application was declined by the Appellate Court for the reason that no medical document in support of those contentions has been attached and frequent exemptions from personal appearance had been sought in the past. Non-bailable warrants have been issued against said accused/appellant.

Feeling aggrieved by that order, he has filed the present petition, notice of which has been issued to the State, which has put in appearance through counsel and learned State counsel is opposing the petition.

I have heard learned counsel for the parties besides going through the record including the medical documents attached.

The present petition is disposed of allowing the petitioner to appear in the Court of learned Additional Sessions Judge, Faridabad through counsel for a period of two months from today and till then order issuing non-bailable warrants against him is to remain in abeyance. The petitioner would appear in the Court of learned Additional Sessions Judge, Faridabad on expiry of the time granted to him by this Court, failing which, the said Court would be free to take any action in accordance with law. To ensure that the petitioner appears in the Court of Additional Sessions Judge, Faridabad, a sum of Rs.50,000/- be deposited there within 10 days, which amount would be liable to be forfeited to the State, if the petitioner flouts this order, otherwise the same be released to him.
