RAJESH BINDAL J.

The present writ petition was filed challenging the show cause notice dated 05.11.2012. Along with the writ petition, record of personal hearing dated 03.06.2016 has also been annexed. As the proceedings in pursuance to the show cause notice issued to the petitioners are still pending, we do not find any reason to interfere with the present petition, as far as challenged therein.

Learned counsel for the petitioners submitted that prayer of the petitioners for permitting cross-examination of certain persons from whom the goods were purchased by the seller of the goods and certain other persons was not allowed. Learned counsel for the petitioners submitted that certified copy of the record of hearing was not provided to the petitioners, in case that is provided, the petitioners will avail of their appropriate alternate remedy against the orders passed.

Learned counsel for respondent No.2 submitted that certified copy of the order passed on 03.06.2016 shall be supplied to the petitioners within two weeks.

As the proceedings in the present case remain pending in this Court and the petitioners had approached this Court immediately after the order was passed on 03.06.2016, we direct that in case the petitioners avail of their appropriate remedy against the aforesaid order within one month from the date of receipt of copy of the order, the Appellate Authority shall consider the issue raised by the petitioners on merits and will not dismiss the claim of the petitioners merely on delay.

The writ petition stands disposed of accordingly.
