G.S.SANDHAWALIA, J. (Oral)

After arguing for some time, counsel for the petitioners does not press the writ petition, since the water of the river is passing through the land purchased by the petitioners and the State is not in usage in any manner. No legal right as such is accruing for directions in the form of writ of mandamus.

Accordingly, the present petition is dismissed as not pressed with liberty to the petitioner to avail appropriate remedy in accordance with law.
