ORDER

25.05.2018

%

After some hearing learned senior advocate appearing for the petitioner states that the writ petition may be treated as a representation to the respondents before final decision is taken by the Central Government.

We take the statement on record. The writ petition would be treated as a representation to the Central Government.

The writ petition is disposed of without commenting on merits. This order would not foreclose the right of the petitioner to challenge any adverse order in accordance with law.
