Order on Board

16.01.2019

By the judgment under challenge passed on 24.08.2007 by Special Judge Atrocities, Bilaspur in Criminal Appeal No. 71 of 2007, the findings recorded by the learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Bilaspur, have been affirmed.

2. Learned counsel for the applicant submits that as the applicant has served the entire sentence and also deposited the fine amount as directed and he had been released after serving the entire sentence on 14.08.2017 after availing the benefit of remission, as directed, he is not pressing the revision on its merits.

3. Though, the applicant is not pressing the revision on merits, this Court went through the evidence of the important witnesses which shows the involvement of the accused/applicant in the crime in question where he is alleged to have possessed one Bhujali (Khukhri) which has been seized from him and thereby has committed the offence under Section 25(1)(B) of the Arms Act. Thus, conviction is justified and no interference is required therewith. Since, the applicant has already completed the sentence after getting benefit of remission etc, this point too does not require any further consideration.

4. In the result, the revision is dismissed.
