Heard

1. On the perusal of the present petition, it appears that the petitioner is not an aggrieved party. A general complaint has been made that on the basis of the forged certificate, various persons have been appointed as teachers. The nature of the averments as has been made, cannot be ordered for an open ended enquiry. Taking into sweep, the entirety of the persons who are working, if the petitioner is candid of the fact that certain persons have obtained the service on the basis of the forged document then specific averments have to be made for it. In such eventuality, the petitioner would have a different remedy to be availed. There cannot be a general omnibus roving enquiry. No order can be made for enquiry of such nature by invoking the jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

2. Accordingly, the petition being devoid of any merit, is dismissed.
