The petitioner has challenged the proceedings of the 1st respondent under Section 145(1) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. The petitioner has been arrayed as 'A' party and the respondents 3 to 11 are arrayed as 'B' party. There seems to be some dispute with regard to the property between 'A' and 'B' parties and also there are litigations pending between them.

2. In such circumstances, preliminary notice under Section 145(1) has been issued. Against which, the petitioner had filed this quash petition.

3. This Court at this stage finds no irregularity in the order of the 1st respondent and the same cannot be questioned into. Hence, this petition is not maintainable and accordingly it is dismissed.
