AMIT RAWAL J. (ORAL)

Concededly the order under challenge dated 09.04.2018 reveals that the application filed by the respondents-defendants for setting aside the ex parte order dated 17.12.2015 for disbursement of compensation awarded in view of acquisition of land, had been allowed by imposing costs of ₹25,000/-.

Learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that the application was wholly vexatious and belated by a period of one year but when this Court raised a specific query whether costs of ₹25,000/- has been paid, counsel for the petitioner acknowledged receipt of the same.

Acceptance of costs of ₹25,000/- tantamounts to acquiescence to the order under challenge and estoppel to lay challenge to the same. The prayer for refund of costs at this stage cannot be accepted.

In view of such circumstances, the order under challenge is upheld and the revision petition is dismissed.
