ANIL KSHETARPAL, J. (ORAL)

Challenge is to the order passed by learned Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate refusing to summon respondents. The aforesaid order has been affirmed by the Court of Sessions in a criminal revision. The petitioner herein, is the husband. He has filed this complaint against his wife and in-laws, complaining that they have inflicted injuries. The Court on appreciation of evidence has found that complainant/petitioner has failed to even prima facie prove its case. It has been noticed that the alleged occurrence is of 4.7.2014. The petitioner is alleged to have got himself medically examined after a period of two days i.e on 6.7.2014. However, no complaint was lodged with the police. Further the Court has found that the case set up by the petitioner-complainant is not plausible.

This Court has heard learned counsel for the petitioner and with his able assistance has gone through the order passed by the learned Magistrate, affirmed in revision by the Court of Sessions. In the considered view of this Court, there is no substantive error or perversity in the view taken.

Dismissed.
