KRISHNA MURARI, C.J. (ORAL)

Admittedly, there does not exist any agreement between the parties for appointment of an arbitrator. Even lease document also does not contain any such condition. Learned counsel for the applicant relying upon a letter written by the Director of the applicant to the respondents stating that in connection with the dispute one of her friend will meet them does not lead to the conclusion that there exists an agreement between the parties for appointment of an arbitrator.

In the absence of any agreement, the application is misconceived and accordingly stands dismissed.
