Having heard learned counsel for the parties, we are of the considered view that the demarcation as ordered by the Court can be carried out. However, in case the appellant has any grievance with regard to the demarcation and the findings recorded in the demarcation before taking any coercive action against the appellant all process of law should be followed and the statutory remedies and rights available to the appellant should be directed to be enforced.

With the aforesaid clarification, the appeal stands disposed of. The pending application also stands disposed of accordingly.

Dasti under the signatures of the Court Master.
