ORDER

% 16.01.2019

The petitioner has not filed this petition with specific prayer. The prayer made are vague in nature as inapplicable of being implemented. The petitioner should specify the places and areas where the irregularity or work to be done by the respondents are not carried out in accordance with law and only then we will be able to issue statutory directions. A roving enquiry into the matter and issuance of directions based on such enquiry without specific areas and places being marked is not possible in exercise of our extraordinary jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution.

The writ petition is disposed of with liberty to the petitioner to file properly constituted petition in this regard.
