CORAM: HONOURABLE MR. JUSTICE RAJEEV RANJAN PRASAD
ORAL ORDER

2 04-02-2020 In the opinion of this Court, there is no reason for the petitioner to invoke the constitutional power of this Court under Article 226 of the Constitution of India in the facts of the present case. The writ application itself contains too many surmises and conjectures with regard to self-claimed apprehension of the petitioner that his son is being unnecessarily harassed in connection with this case.

Learned counsel for the State submits that presently the matter is under investigation and at this stage there is no reason for the petitioner to understand that the investigation will not take place in right direction.

Considering the facts and circumstances of the case where the police is still investigating the matter and the petitioner has no reason and ground to demonstrate before this Court that the investigation is not taking place in right direction, this Court is not inclined to entertain this writ application. It is dismissed accordingly.
