

IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUDICATURE AT BOMBAY
BENCH AT AURANGABAD

ANTICIPATORY BAIL APPLICATION NO. 1092 OF 2020
(Ashok s/o Harakchand Sanghavi Vs. The State of Maharashtra)

Mr. Narwadkar, Advocate holding for Mr. P.D. Suryawanshi,
Advocate for the applicant
Mrs. G.L. Deshpande, A.P.P. for the respondent/State

CORAM : MANGESH S. PATIL, J.

DATE : 24.11.2020

PER COURT :

After having heard Mr. Narwadkar, learned Advocate holding for Mr. P.D. Suryawanshi, Advocate for the applicant in the first session, when it was pointed out that this Court has already rejected earlier application of the applicant for anticipatory bail (Anticipatory Bail Application No.1064/2019) by order dated 24.02.2020, which order was subsequently challenged before the Supreme Court in Special Leave to Appeal (Cri.) No.2109/2020, but was confirmed vide order dated 02.06.2020, Mr. Narwadkar, learned Advocate had sought time to solicit instructions and the matter was kept back for the second session.

2. When the matter was called out in the second session, Mr. Narwadkar did not turn up and the matter was again kept back and called out at the bottom of the board. Still, none is present.

3. Since this Court has already rejected earlier application of the applicant for anticipatory bail by the order dated 24.02.2020 and even that order stands confirmed upto the Supreme Court, the application is dismissed.
