

manipulation, which the bank has indulged into. Except this, there are no other contentions raised.

3           A bare perusal of the order passed by the Divisional Joint Registrar shows that Petitioner had not even filed a reply before the Assistant Registrar, to the Application filed by the fourth Respondent, making out any case of such manipulation. The contentions cannot be considered for the first time before this Court. On hearing the learned counsel for the parties, I do not find that any case for interference is made out. The writ petition is devoid of any merit, and is accordingly dismissed, with no order as to costs.

4.           At this stage, after the order is dictated, the Petitioner, who is present in person, submitted that he may be heard and that he wants to change his advocate. The request cannot be acceded to after the order is dictated and pronounced.
