PRAYER : Petition is filed under Article 226 of the Constitution of India praying to call for the entire records, connected with the detention order of the Respondent No.2 in Cr.M.P.No.28/2019 (Goonda), dated 19.12.2019 and quash the same and direct the respondents to produce the body or person of the detenu by name Keertheeswaran, son of Nagarajan, aged about 23 years, now detained as "Goonda" at Palayamkottai Central Prison, before this Court and set him at liberty forthwith.

For Petitioner : Mr.R.Alagumani
For Respondents : Mr.V.Neelakandan
Additional Public Prosecutor

O R D E R

(Order of the Court was made by K.KALYANASUNDARAM, J.)

This habeas corpus petition has been filed by the detenu, namely, Keertheeswaran, son of Nagarajan, aged about 23 years, against the detention order passed by the second respondent, in Cr.M.P.No.28/2019 (Goonda), dated 19.12.2019, branding him as "Goonda" as contemplated under Section 2(f) of Tamil Nadu Act, 14 of 1982.

2. Though several grounds have been raised challenging the impugned detention order, Mr.R.Alagumani, learned counsel for the petitioner, would mainly contend that the impugned order of detention is liable to be set aside on the grounds of lack of application of mind on the part of the Detaining Authority and delay in considering the petitioner's representation.

<https://hcservices.courts.gov.in/hcservices/>

3. Per contra, Mr.V.Neelakandan, learned Additional Public Prosecutor, by referring to the counter affidavit filed by the second respondent, submitted that the detention order has been rightly passed by the second respondent taking note of the activities of the detenu and it has been passed to prevent the detenu from indulging in similar activities in future. It is the further submission of the learned Additional Public Prosecutor that the delay in disposal of the representation has not caused any prejudice to the detenu and hence, prayed for dismissal of the habeas corpus petition.

4. We have heard the rival submissions and perused the materials placed on record.

5. In the instant case, it is seen from the records that there are five accused in the ground case. Three of the accused surrendered before the learned Judicial Magistrate, Thiruppur, on 20.11.2019 and two of the accused were secured by the respondent Police on 12.11.2019. The impugned detention order came to be passed on 19.12.2019. Admittedly, no bail application was filed by the detenu in the ground case. However, the Detaining Authority, to arrive at the subjective satisfaction, in Paragraph No.5(i) of the detention order, has relied on the bail order dated 19.12.2018 in Cr.M.P.No.10192 of 2018, granted by the learned Judicial Magistrate No.II, Virudhunagar, to the detenu Keertheeswaran in the first adverse case. A perusal of the bail order, dated 19.12.2018 in Cr.M.P.No.10192 of 2018, which is annexed at Page No.103 of the booklet, would show that the learned Judicial Magistrate granted statutory bail to the detenu under Section 167(2) Cr.P.C. Therefore, we are of the view that the similar case relied on by the Detaining Authority is not similar to the ground case, which shows lack of application of mind on the part of the Detaining Authority.

6. Further, it is seen from the proforma furnished by the learned Additional Public Prosecutor that the representation of the petitioner, dated 02.01.2020, was received on 07.01.2020. Remarks were called for on the same day i.e. 07.01.2020 and it was received on 03.02.2020. The Deputy Secretary dealt with the matter on 04.02.2020. The concerned Minister dealt with the matter on 17.02.2020 and the representation came to be rejected on the same day i.e.17.02.2020. It is seen that in between 07.01.2020 and 03.02.2020, there is inordinate and unexplained delay of seventeen days, after excluding the Government Holidays of nine days, in considering the petitioner's representation.

7. At this juncture, it is useful to refer the decision of the Honourable Apex Court in the case of Rajammal vs. State of Tamil Nadu and another, reported in 1999 (1) SCC 417, wherein it is held as follows:

"7. It is a Constitutional obligation of the Government to consider the representation forwarded by the detenu without any delay. Though no period is prescribed by Article 22 of the consideration for the decision to be taken on the representation, the words 'as soon as may be' in Clause (5) of Article 22 convey the message that the representation should be considered and disposed of at the earliest. But that does not mean that the authority is preempted from explaining the delay which would have occasioned in the disposal of the representation. The Court can certainly consider whether the delay was occasioned due to permissible reasons or unavoidable caused. This position has been well delineated by a Constitution Bench of this Court in M.M.Abdulla Kunhi v. Union of India, 1991 (1) SCC (Cri) 613. The following observations of the Bench can profitably be extracted here: (SCC 484, Para 12)

"It is a Constitutional mandate commanding the authority concerned to whom the detenu submits his representation to consider the representation and dispose of the same as expeditiously as possible. The words 'as soon as may be' occurring in Clause (5) of Article 22 reflects the concern of the Framers that the representation should be expeditiously considered and dispose of with a sense of urgency without any avoidable delay. However, there can be no hard and fast rule in this regard. It depends upon the facts and circumstances of each case. There is no period prescribed either under the Constitution or under the Detention Law concerned within which the representation should be dealt with. The requirement, however, is that there should not be supine indifference, slackness or callous attitude in considering the representation. Any unexplained delay in the disposal of representation would be a breach of the Constitutional imperative and it would render the continued detention impermissible and illegal."

8. The position, therefore, now is that if delay was caused on account of nay indifference or lapse in considering the representation, such delay will adversely affect further detention of the prisoner. In other words, it is for the authority concerned to explain the delay, if any, in disposing of the representation. It is not enough to say that the delay was very short. Even longer delay can as well be explained. So the test is not the duration or range of delay, but how it is explained by the authority concerned."

8. In the case on hand, as stated supra, the delay of seventeen days has not been properly explained by the respondents. Hence, in our considered view, the detention order is liable to be set aside on the grounds of non-application of mind and delay by following the decision of the Honourable Apex Court referred supra.

9. In fine, the Habeas Corpus Petition is allowed. The order of detention passed by the second respondent, in Cr.M.P.No.28/2019 (Goonda), dated 19.12.2019, is set aside. Consequently, the detenu, namely, Keertheeswaran, son of Nagarajan, aged about 23 years, who is now detained at Palayamkottai Central Prison, is directed to be released forthwith unless his presence or custody or detention is required in connection with any other case.
