ORDER

Heard the learned counsel on either side.

2.The case on hand is squarely covered by the order dated 23.11.2018 in W.P.(MD)No.2662 of 2015. This Court had held as follows:-

"3.The submission of the learned counsel appearing for the petitioner is that Section 200 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 enables composition of the offences mentioned in Section 200(1). Section 200(1) of the Act reads as follows :

Any offence whether committed before or after the commencement of this Act punishable under section 177, section 178, section 179, section 180, section 181, section 182, subsection (1) or sub-section (2) of section 183, section 184, section 186, 8[section 189, sub-section (2) of section 190,] section 191, section 192, section 194, section 196, or section 198, may either before or after the institution of the prosecution, be compounded by such officers or authorities and for such amount as the State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, specify in this behalf.

4.Invoking the said power under Section 200(1) of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988, the impugned Government Order has been issued. But, interestingly, Section 200(1) of the Act does not include the offences under Section 192 A of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988. Therefore, it is obvious that the Government could not have authorized the traffic police not below the rank of the Sub Inspector of Police to levy spot fine even in respect of the offence under Section 192 A of the Act. Such an authorisation is clearly without the authority of law. Unless Section 200 (1) is amended to include Section 192 A of the Act such an authorisation could not have been given.

5.The counter affidavit filed on behalf of the Government does not deal with this contention at all. A feeble submission was made that the writ petition deserves to be dismissed since the challenge has been mounted after a gap of three years. The said Government Order was issued in December 2011 whereas the writ petition was filed only in February, 2015. When the validity of the Government Order or statute is questioned, laches can never be a reply or defence. The authority of the government to issue the G.O in question in respect of the offence under Section 192 A has been raised. There is no answer. Therefore, the order impugned in this writ petition is set aside insofar as Serial No.30 in the annexure including Section 192-A(1) is concerned. In all other respects, the impugned G.O is sustained.

6.This writ petition is allowed accordingly. No costs. Consequently, connected miscellaneous petitions are closed."

3.Inasmuch as the issue raised in this writ petition is covered by the aforesaid order, the present writ petition is also allowed on the same terms. No costs. Consequently, connected miscellaneous petitions are closed.
