

Section 2(f) of the Tamil Nadu Act 14 of 1982, branding him as "Goonda". Challenging the same, the petitioner is before this Court with this Habeas Corpus Petition.

2. We have heard the learned counsel for the petitioner and the learned Additional Public Prosecutor for the respondents.

3. It is seen that the detention order has been clamped based on the solitary case registered on 27.08.2019 in Thoothukudi Central Police Station Crime No.350 of 2019 under Sections 147, 148, 449, 294(b), 302 and 506(ii) of the Indian Penal Code @ Sections 109, 114, 120-B, 147, 148, 449, 294(b), 302 and 506(ii) of the Indian Penal Code. However, in Paragraph No.4 of the grounds of detention, the Detaining Authority has stated as follows:

"In the above adverse case and in the ground case, more than one person has been affected by the acts of the accused Vadivel. Moreover, the offences were caused in different periodical intervals. Further accused Vadivel has been habitually doing grave crimes and thereby acted in a manner prejudicial to the maintenance of public order."

When there are no adverse cases to the credit of the detenu, the aforesaid averment shows lack of application of mind on the part of the Detaining Authority, which, in the opinion of this Court, vitiates the detention order.

4. In the result, this Habeas Corpus Petition is allowed by setting aside the order of detention passed by the second respondent, in H.S.(M)Confdl.No.52/2019, dated 26.09.2019. Consequently, the detenu, namely, Vadivel, son of Valvangi, aged about 39 years, who is now detained at Central Prison, Palayamkottai, is directed to be released forthwith unless his presence or custody or detention is required in connection with any other case/proceedings.
