caused injuries to him with their respective weapons, on account of which complainant became unconscious.

Learned counsel inter alia contends that presence of the petitioner is not seen in the compact disc of the place of occurrence. He has falsely been implicated.

Heard.

Considering overall circumstances and the fact that petitioner is named in the FIR and has been attributed specific role of causing injuries to the complainant by a danda and further that he is involved in eight more criminal cases, this Court is not inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

Dismissed.
