

In the High Court for the States of Punjab and Haryana
At Chandigarh

CRWP-9726-2020

Date of Decision:-24.11.2020

Parveen Kumar

... Petitioner

Versus

State of Punjab and others

... Respondents

CORAM: HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE GURVINDER SINGH GILL

Present : Ms. Nishi, Advocate, for the petitioner.

(Proceedings conducted through video conferencing)

GURVINDER SINGH GILL, J.(Oral)

The petitioner has approached this Court seeking grant of emergency parole on the ground that marriage of petitioner's nephew is to be solemnized tomorrow i.e. on 25.11.2020 and also on the ground to meet his ailing mother stated to be aged about 90 years.

Having heard the learned counsel for the petitioner, this Court finds that it may not be practically possible to verify the factum of marriage of the petitioner's nephew at such a short notice as the said marriage is stated to be solemnized tomorrow. However, as far as the other ground set forth i.e. the health of the petitioner's mother aged about 90 years is concerned, the petitioner would be at liberty to move appropriate application to the Superintendent, Central Jail, Kapurthala, in this regard seeking emergency parole. In case, any such application is filed, the respondent authority shall do the needful for expeditious disposal of the same.

This petition stands disposed off accordingly.
