Dr. S. Muralidhar, J.

1. The Petitioner has approached the Court, aggrieved by the entire tender process, when the tender process itself is yet to be completed.

2. At this stage, the Petitioner is unaware as to who the other bidders are, who are likely to be adversely affected if any order favouring the present Petitioner is passed.

3. In that view of the matter, the question of entertaining the present writ petition does not arise and it is accordingly dismissed.

4. It will be open to the Petitioner, once the tender process is finalized, to file a fresh petition urging all the grounds mentioned in the present writ petition.
