J U D G M E N T

This suit has been filed for recovery of a sum of Rs.3,27,20,402/- being the excess tax amount paid by the plaintiff due to the failure of the defendant in furnishing 'C' forms.

2.The plaintiff is a leading car manufacturer and the 1st defendant was appointed as a dealer of the plaintiff. As per Section 8(1) of the Central Sales Act, the rate of sales tax / VAT for the Cars and their spare parts in the course of Inter-State Trade or Commerce in respect of sales made to registered dealers of other states is 2%. The said concessional rate of 2% is applicable to inter-state or commerce only if the selling dealer furnishes particulars of sale to the prescribed authority in a particular manner in a particular form, which is generally called as 'C' form within the prescribed time. If the 'C' forms are not furnished within the prescribed time, the sales made even to a registered dealer will also be deemed as a sale made to an unregistered dealer or a Local Sales and the highest rate of tax will be imposed according to the Local Sales Tax Act, wherein the tax of the sale of cars / spare parts is 12.50% as against 2% under CST Act.

3.As per the memorandum of understanding dated 18.07.1996 and 22.01.2008 between the plaintiff and the Government of Tamil Nadu, the plaintiff was given a concessional rate of tax at 1% instead of 2%. Pursuant to the memorandum of understanding, the Government Orders have been issued in G.OMs.225 dated 29.09.1998 and G.O.Ms.No.101 dated 23.04.2008.

4.As per the Central Sales Tax Act and Rules, the purchasing dealer is obliged to obtain form 'C' from the local sales tax office and submit the same to the selling dealer to enable them to file the same to the local sales tax authorities within the stipulated time. The plaintiff would claim that the 1st defendant, who was appointed as a dealer of the plaintiff under a letter of intent dated 24.03.1999 failed to furnish 'C' forms as required under the Act and therefore, the plaintiff was compelled to pay the suit claim as additional sales tax. The differential sales tax comes to Rs.3,27,20,402/-.

5.According to the plaintiff, the liability for payment of excess sales tax or arose due to the failure on the part of the 1st defendant to furnish 'C' forms with the stipulated time and therefore, the 1st defendant is liable to pay dues. On the strength of the above pleadings, the plaintiff had sought for a decree for recovery of the said sum of Rs.3,27,20,402/- along with interest at 18% per annum on the said sum from the date of plaint till date of realization.

6.Despite service, the defendants have not chosen to enter appearance to defend the suit. The plaintiff has let in evidence and one Mr.M.Sagadevan, Deputy General Manager (Legal & Secretarial) has examined as P.W.1. He has filed his proof affidavit and has also produced Exs.P1 to P19. The evidence on record clearly demonstrates that the additional liability for a payment of sales tax arose solely on the ground of the failure of the 1st defendant to produce 'C' forms within the stipulated time. Therefore, the 1st defendant is liable to compensate the plaintiff for the additional tax paid by the plaintiff.

7.Hence, the suit is decreed as prayed for with costs.
