This Criminal Revision Case is filed by the petitioner/accused, aggrieved by the judgment of the Judicial Magistrate, Additional Mahila Court, Salem in C.C.No.114 of 2013, dated 13.11.2013, convicting him for an offence under Section 498-A of Indian Penal Code and imposing a sentence of one year Rigorous Imprisonment and fine of Rs.1,000/-, in default, to undergo three months Simple Imprisonment and the judgment of the learned I Additional District and Sessions Judge, Salem in Crl.A.No.137 of 2013 dated 21.08.2014, dismissing the appeal and confirming the conviction and sentence imposed by the Trial Court.

2. When the matter was taken up for final hearing, the defacto complainant and the petitioner herein appeared before this Court on repeated occasions, both virtually and physically and the defacto complainant submitted her desire that she does not want the petitioner/husband to undergo punishment, rather wanted to join together. The petitioner/husband, however, submitted that he is residing with his parents adjacent to the house to the defacto complainant and would see his children regularly and also pay a monthly maintenance of Rs.1,000/- each directly in the bank account of each of the children. To this effect, both of them had also filed a joint affidavit before this Court.

3. Since, this matter pertains to a conflict between the husband and wife and in view of the fact that, both of them have reached an amicable settlement, this Revision Case is allowed. The judgment of the learned Judicial Magistrate, Additional Mahila Court, Salem in C.C.No.114 of 2013, dated 13.11.2013 and the judgment of the learned I Additional District and Sessions Judge, Salem in Crl.A.No.137 of 2013, dated 21.08.2014 are set aside and the petitioner is acquitted of the charge. However, he shall abide by the undertaking given by him before this Court by paying monthly maintenance of Rs.1,000/- each to three of his children and also take care of them both emotionally and giving support in their future endeavours of education, marriage etc.
