COMMON ORDER

Today, when these matters were taken up for consideration, the learned counsel for the petitioners, on instructions, submitted that subsequent to the filing of these writ petitions, the claim of the petitioners was considered and possession of the property was taken and hence, liberty may be granted to the petitioners to approach the authority concerned with a fresh representation and on such approach, the authority concerned may be directed to dispose of the same, on merits.

2.The learned Government counsel appearing for the respondents has no serious objection for granting such relief to the petitioners.

3.In view of the limited relief now sought by the learned counsel for the petitioners, which has also not been seriously opposed on the side of the respondents, these writ petitions
