The petitioner, who apprehends arrest at the hands of the respondent police for the alleged offence under Section 366(A) of IPC altered into Section 363, 366, 376(2)(n) of IPC and Section 6 of POCSO Act and thereafter altered into Section 363, 366, 376 (2)(n) r/w 109 of IPC and Sections 5(1), r/w 6 and 17 of POCSO Act in Crime No.528 of 2021, on the file of the respondent police, seeks anticipatory bail.

2. The case of the prosecution is that there was a love affair between the first accused and the victim girl. Further, the first accused had kidnapped the victim girl and had sexual intercourse with her. The petitioner is the sister of the first accused. Hence, the complaint.

3. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioner submitted that the petitioner has not committed any offence as alleged by the prosecution and she has been falsely implicated in this case. He further submitted that there was a love affair between the first accused and the victim girl. Hence, he prays for grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

He further submitted that the investigation is almost completed. He also further submitted that A1 and A2 were arrested and remanded to judicial custody. However, he vehemently opposed for grant of anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

5. Considering the facts and circumstances of the case and also the fact that the investigation is almost completed, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner with certain conditions.
