2.The case of the prosecution is that there was a wordy quarrel between the petitioner and the defacto complainant regarding vehicle damage worth about Rs.8,520/- , due to which, the petitioner along with other accused abused the defacto complainant in filthy language, assaulted him, and threatened him and caused injuries on him. Hence the complaint.

3.The learned counsel appearing for the petitioner submits that the petitioner has not been committed any such offence as alleged by the prosecution and he has been falsely implicated in this case. Hence, the learned counsel prays to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

4. The learned Government Advocate (Crl side) submits that the injured has been discharged from the hospital. He further submits that there are three previous cases against the petitioner. Hence, he vehemently opposed for granting anticipatory bail to the petitioner.

5. The learned counsel, on instructions, submits that the petitioner, without prejudice to his rights, is ready to deposit the amount of Rs.20,000/- to the credit of the crime number on the file of the respondent police and also conceded the same to be disbursed to the defacto complainant. However, the learned counsel submits that before disbursing the amount to the defacto complainant, an affidavit of undertaking shall be obtained from the defacto complainant stating that in the event of the petitioner succeeding the case, the amount of Rs.20,000/- will be returned to him.

6. Considering the fact that the injured has been discharged from the hospital and also considering the fact that the petitioner is ready to deposit the amount of Rs.20,000/- to the credit of the crime number on the file of the respondent police, this Court is inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the petitioner.
