ORDER

This Criminal Original Petition has been filed to quash the FIR in Crime No.17 of 2019 registered on the file of them respondent Police.

2. The defacto complainant as well as the victim are present in person before me. They have been duly identified by Vijayalakshmi, WHC 2397, attached to Rajapalayam All Women Police Station, Virudhunagar District. The petitioner appears before this Court and submits that he had committed the acts in question but he gives an undertaking that he will never repeat them in future. He also states that he had vacated Rajapalayam and is presently doing his studies in Bangalore. He gives further undertaking that he will never interfere with the life of victim. If this undertaking is breached, I made it clear to the petitioner this Court will not hesitate to initiate contempt proceedings against the petitioner.

3. Though the offences in question are not compoundable, the victims mother and the defacto complainant stated that the impugned prosecution may cast a shadow on her life. The defacto complainant and the victim do not wish to pursue the matter. They have also a filed joint memo of compromise dated 25.11.2021. In these circumstances, continuance of impugned proceedings may not really serve the ends of justice. The impugned proceedings are quashed and criminal original petition is allowed. Consequently, connected miscellaneous petitions are closed.
